"Just for Fun"

By RAS BERRY

They didn't meet me with no brass band when I come home from Boston and I was pretty glum, because I thought they would of met me with a brass band.

But now I see why they didn't. They left the reception music to the mosquitoes. And when I got home the insect orchestra was playing California here I come. And then they kept their word and kept on comin'.

Up to the Rotary club they greeted me with every guy wearing a big black mustache but they served me my coffee in a regular cup and I have got so I can't drink coffee out of nothing but a mustache cup. I am okay now because I borrowed Harvel Guttenfelder's who was willing to get rid of it as soon as he knowed he was too little to have any success with an upper lip crop. He should ought to spend three months in Boston.

The first thing I done when I got home to the office was to open the mail and the first two envelopes I opened said my notes was due and what was I going to do about them, and so I felt at home right away.

I had a dandy time down to Boston. Once on a street car I heard two men talking. One of them says I see by the paper that Sacco and Vanzetti says they is going to die for anarchy and the other one says Good.

I picked up a Boston accent but dropped it in Yuma. The desert burnt it out.

Down to Boston they think that the U. S. ends at the western foothills of the Berkshires, and after I had lived there for a month I begin to think so too. But when I got about as far as Houston I unlearned it. Just the same I think that everyone in the west should go to New England about every two years to learn that they actually is something worth while outside of Calif.

While I was away many things happened that would not of happened if I had of been here. I ain't gonna mention all of them but one of them I will comment about.

No sooner had I removed my influence from my partner than he up and got married. And now they ain't nobody among the older bachelors in town to crow over us benedicts but Don Findley and Dick Richards. And they ain't got much to crow about.

They is one consolation in having my bald-headed partner married. He is crowing a new head of hair which will make things easier on my eyes in the office when he gets back. I don't know why it is that marriage makes bald-headed men want to grow hair unless it is their wives who urge them to do it so as they will have something to pull.

They is a magazine published in the east named The New Yorker and the New Yorker says that the reason Calvin has chose not to be a candidate is because he has signed a contract to play western parts in the movies.

We ain't never had no president of the U. S. from west of the Mississippi and it looks like at last we may even have a Iowa-born Californian in the chair after Calvin. Herb Hoover was born in Iowa and moved west early. They is so many Iowans in Calif. that if Hoover is elected this state can almost claim him as a native son because the capital of Iowa is Sacramento.

Well, I gotta go home and swat mosquitoes.

New Units Ready at High School

Jessie Weaver, commercial; Stella Young, English and history.

A course in biology will be added for which a laboratory has been equipped. In addition to agriculture, Mr. Merrill will conduct classes in floriculture. Pupils not interested in farming may thus take up gardening and the care of flowers.

Elementary Ready
At the Torrance Elementary school, there will be only two new teachers on the faculty but there are many changes of assignment within the faculty of last year. Replacing Fae Vilas Schwind who is transferring to San Fernando valley, Miss Holt has been assigned. Replacing Grace W. McGowan who has resigned, Mrs. Edna K. Russell has been assigned. Mrs. Russell formerly taught at Torrance.

During the summer the extensive lawn and sprinkling system was installed in front of the building while the playground was piped for large hose to insure less dust. Other minor repairs and additions have been made to insure the comfort and health of the children.

Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, superintendent of city schools has called a meeting of the faculty of each school at its respective building at 8 a. m. on Monday. To minimize confusion on that day Principal William M. Bell has prepared printed instructions for the teachers covering all matters pertaining to the conduct of the school. This will relieve the faculty to care for new pupils and give more time for the organization of classes. The first day will consist of a full session.

Tentative assignment for the new year are as follows: kindergarten directors, Mrs. Gladys Baker and Miss Eleanor Tafe, (a new assistant director is to be appointed by the first day of school); Mrs. Gertrude Haydon, Foreign B1; Mrs. Ruth George, B1; Miss Bernice Lloyd, B1; Miss Edna Fairman, B1 and A1; Mrs. Mary Kent, B2; Miss Holt, A1; Miss Lovenia Boudinot, Foreign A1 and B2; Mrs. Fanny Van Voorhees, B2 and A2; Miss Grace Burnham, A2 and B3; Mrs. Edna Russell, B3; Mrs. Lyle Husted, A3; Mrs. Helen Berry, B4; Miss Maude Roberson, B4 and A4; Mrs. Mary Fitz, A4; Miss Etta Mowry, Foreign A2, B3, and A3; Mrs. Marguerite Mathews, A4 and B5; Miss Laura Thomas, B5; Mrs. Juliet Young, A5; Mrs. Mabel-Ella Sweet, A5 and B6; Mrs. Bessie Haskin, B6 and A6; Miss Volney Henderson, A6; Mrs. Geneva Binkley, manual education; Mrs. Hilba Powell, development opportunity room; Miss Agnes Crimmins, domestic science; Mrs. Lena M. Gaetner, agriculture; Miss Lydia Myrick, Americanization; Miss Margaret Haman, clerk, and William M. Bell, Jr., principal.

Mrs. Fanny Van Voorhees is reported ill and Mrs. Grace Gilmore of Gardena will substitute in her room for several weeks.

Maybe They'll Grin and Bear It

A traveling SALESMAN, one of the FOUR HUNDRED who CALL on us every day, WANTS us to QUIT this business and GO IN WITH HIM to raise FIG TREES. HE says the way FASHIONS are going in WOMEN'S CLOTHES the LEAVES will SOON be in great DEMAND. What WORRIES us though is WHAT we will do in WINTER when there ARE no LEAVES on the FIG trees, and WHAT will the GIRLS do? Until some KIND friend comes in and TELLS us the ANSWER to THAT problem we THINK maybe WE will keep on STICKING to the DRUG business, but we DO have our eye on a LIKELY looking piece of LAND for our GROVE.

Say Folks

You are back from your vacations feeling good. I am glad you could go.

Now let's get down to business. There are a lot of things you will want to fix up around the place—varnish stain for the chairs, varnish for the floors and casings, paint for the outside of the house and a quart of good paint for the car. Also a few good brushes to work with.

Come in and let's talk it over.

OBSERVATIONS

tions argue that we must remain isolated with no foreign entanglements. Should the league stretch the arms of its authority across the Atlantic our imaginary isolation would fade out in a twinkling. The longer the league lives the more it becomes evident that the United States should be a member. The organization is accomplishing wonders without us. If we joined it would be the greatest force for progress in the world—anti-league propaganda of arms manufacturers to the contrary notwithstanding!
